MEDICINAL.

TUTT'S PILLS!
INTRODUCED 1865.

A TORPID LIVER
Is the fruitful source of many diseases, prominent among which are DYSPEPSIA, SLUGGISHNESS, CONSTIPATION, DYSENTERY, JAUNDICE, PILES, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY COMPLAINT, COLIC, &c.

Symptoms of a Torpid Liver.
Loss of Appetite and Nausea, the bowels are costive, but sometimes alternate with looseness. Pain in the Head, accompanied with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain in the right side and under the shoulder blade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of Temper, Low Spirit, Loss of Memory, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, General Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness at night with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine. IF THESE WARNINGS are unheeded, serious diseases will soon be developed.

TUTT'S PILLS
Are especially adapted to such cases. A single dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

TUTT'S PILLS
Are compounded from substances that are free from any properties that can injure the most delicate organization. They Search, Cleanse, Purify and Invigorate the Entire System. By regulating the engorged liver, they cleanse the blood from poisonous humors, and thus impart health and vitality to the body, causing the bowels to act naturally, without which no one can feel well.

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS:
Dr. Tutt—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Last Spring your Pills were recommended to me; I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have a good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth twice weight in gold.
Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

TUTT'S PILLS.
Their first effect is to increase the appetite, and cause the body to take on flesh, thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the Digestive Organs, regular stools are produced.
DR. J. P. HAYWOOD, OF NEW YORK, SAYS:—
"Few diseases exist that cannot be relieved by restoring the liver to its normal functions, and for this purpose no remedy has ever been invented that has had so happy an effect as TUTT'S PILLS."
SOLD EVERYWHERE, PRICE 25 CENTS.
Office 35 Murray Street, New York.
"Dr. TUTT'S MANUAL of Valuable Information and Useful Receipts" will be mailed free on application.

A Little Girl's Adventure.
On Tuesday, April 29, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the little daughter of B. L. Vinson, living in North Reynolds, by the carelessness of other children, who sent her home when too far away in the woods, wandered off and was lost. The children coming home two hours later, and not finding her there, Mr. Vinson commenced the search for the little one. He afterward informed J. S. McCay of the matter, and runners were sent out, and the search continued until daylight Wednesday morning, by which time the whole town was aroused, and help came in from every direction. Every effort was made to discover the course taken by the child. Mr. Gakey found her tracks in a cow path, leading southwest, and Chas. Taylor found tracks a mile further, leading in the same direction.

A line of men was formed and proceeded to scour the woods in that direction, till everywhere it stopped for the night, except by a few of the friends. Runners were sent out, and early Thursday morning a party went out under the leadership of that old mountaineer, I. N. By. The line was from one hall to three further a mile long, and sympathy being fully aroused, a busy day was put in. Toward evening, Arthur O'Bryan found a large piece of calico hanging to a bush; also tracks which bore in the usual direction, but no human hand could stay the darkness, and again she was left in the care of Him who noeth even the fall of the sparrow. The third day brought willing help from far and near, some parties coming from Little Neck. The captain pushed his lines northwest, as tracks had been found which seemed to indicate that she was in that direction. The line was continued and orders issued to look close, the actions faces telling plainly that they expected to rescue only the lifeless remains, as these cold nights, with but little clothing, she must have perished. Passing the house of I. W. Haller, a party went to get a drink, when they were informed that the child was found and alive. Immediately there arose one of the old fashioned army cheers, followed by a general stampede for the residence of Mr. Vinson, whither Thomas Lusk, that warm hearted and sympathetic Irishman, had already gone with her. The scene when the child was brought to its mother's arms was one long to be remembered. Strong men wept at sight of the little heroine, for such they considered her.

Mr. Lusk was looking up until when he saw the little waif coming out upon the meadow. Your reporter visited the little lady Sunday morning. She was doing well, and showed but little of the terrible usage she had received. I plied her with questions, which brought out the following facts: She realized that she was lost, and I also heard her father's name, but could not make him hear her; she slept by the foot of a large oak the first night, pulling her felt skirt up around her shoulders to keep her warm. When the sun warmed her up she started up. She never sat down nor slept in the daytime; the second night she slept by the side of a log, until she heard the voice of her brother Daniel, when she tried to get to him, but he went off and she had to lie down again. She slept on the third night in a hollow log, and when she awoke she saw three gray animals with white tails, she said, looking at her and stamping their feet. She motioned, and they galloped off (they were probably deer), and commenced her march. She picked roseberries and wild onions to eat, and drank out of water holes when thirsty. She tore off pieces of her dress and hung them upon the bushes to show the men where she was. She heard men yell and knew they were looking for her; saw a large fire, too; kept away out of danger; and when found remarked to some one that she was just as glad to meet Mr. Lusk as her mother would be to see her. She had red hair, fair complexion, black eyes, three and one half feet high, and a x years of age the 12th of July next, according to the family record.—Toll Co., Minn., Argus.

CLAIMS TO ENGLISH LANDS.—The many persons who have claims to property in land in England ought to look promptly to their interests. The act for the limitation of actions relating to real property was passed as far back as 1874. It was a supplement to Lord Selborne's bill for facilitating the transfer of land, but, owing to the importance of its provisions and to give all concerned fair warning, its operation was deferred to January 1, 1879. The result of the act is a declaration that no person shall bring any action to recover land or rent except within twelve years after the right has accrued.

In the case of infancy, coverture, or marriage, and in case a period of six years is to be allowed from the termination of the disability, or in the case of any one eluding through a person who labored under such disability from the time of his or her death. The period of grace allowed to persons absent beyond seas is abolished. A land owner who permits the mortgage of his estate to hold possession will be barred, and will not be able to redeem his property at the end of twelve years from the time when the latter took possession, unless he has received a written acknowledgment of his title. In no instance will it be possible to recover land or rent after suffering claims to go to sleep for thirty years.

No FUNERAL ADDRESSES.—The Protestant clergymen of Troy have passed resolutions to limit burial services, as far as possible, to Scriptural reading, singing and prayer. One of the reasons for omitting sermons on such occasions is thus stated: "Ministers are often embarrassed and brought to a degree of discredit by inappropriate remarks, by ignorance of inappropriate features of the life or family of the deceased person, by saying too little or too much in the view of biased and prejudiced minds and fear of giving offense."
